To Fluke Calibration's 1590 and 1575A Super Thermometer owners:

It has been 10 years since the end of life for the 1590 and 1575A Super Thermometers, and Fluke is now announcing the end of service for these obsolete versions of the Super Thermometer will take place on June 30, 2020. Please see the table below for the full lifecycle of the products.

| Fluke Model | Introduction | End of Life | End of Service |
|-------------|--------------|---------------|----------------|
| 1590 | 1998 | January 2010 | June 30, 2020 |
| 1575/1575A | 1993 | December 2009 | June 30, 2020 |

After the end of service date, service, support, and calibration will be discontinued for the models listed above. The recommended replacements for these models are the 1594A and 1595A Super Thermometers. To assist with making the transition, a trade-in program offering 20% off the current list price is available through December 2020.
